Wine Review Online

"This completely convincing wine is one of the handful of best American Rieslings that I've tasted during the past year. Ripe golden apple with a lemon edge, it is dry but soft and fruity. Impressively balanced and integrated, this shows more complexity and class than the great majority of American Rieslings." January 13, 2009

"A beautiful intersection of chalky mineral, white floral scents and energetic, dry peach flavors. Fruit? Yes, of course, but amid the ripe peach and lemon confit are savory accents and a big, broad presence." February 19, 2010

"Mendocino County grapegrower Guinness McFadden is known for his organic Riesling grapes, and this wine is made from his excellent fruit. It has a slightly floral aroma, with green apple and mineral notes, and a whiff of petrol. It's lightly sweet in style, with peach and apricot flavors and a balancing crispness." August 24, 2010

"The 2009 Dashe Cellars McFadden Farm Riesling arrives slightly floral and earthy, with a hint of pear and peach. The Mendocino white is a fine foil for spicy cuisine, especially Asian." September 28, 2010
